No Half Way Measures Will Be Considered

Preparations Will Be Designed to Meet Any Eventuality.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The United States government is getting ready to put into effect measures of the most far-reaching and aggressive character in the event of war with Germany. It will not be satisfied with mere attempts to protect American vessels. Its preparations will be designed to meet any eventualities—a long war, if necessary. There will be no half-way measures. This program was agreed upon at a long cabinet meeting Friday and it guided the Council of National Defense when it met with its advisory commission. The program decided upon includes military, naval, industrial and financial measures.

The question of sending an army abroad will be left for future consideration. Whether political alliances with the Entente Allies will be formed is not known, although military as well as naval co-operation is possible and the government will furnish both money and supplies to the allies with out stint. Suggestions before President Wilson included the possibility of floated a loan of five billion dollars for the Entente. When President Wilson goes before Congress soon after it meets in extra session on April 2, he is expected to make it clear that the government and people of the United States will not be prompted by hostility toward the German people, but only by acts of the German government. So far the President has given only preliminary consideration to his address to Congress.

The object of the meeting of the Council of National Defense with its commission was to take an inventory of what had been done in the way of industrial preparedness and to decide what further measures are necessary. The council is expected to take an important part in the conduct of actual warfare.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Led by more than forty patriotic and civic organizations and college clubs, a crowd that filled Madison Square Garden, enthusiastically pledged itself to the support of President Wilson and urged that there be no more delay on the part of the United States in entering the European war against Germany.

Among the speakers were Elihu Root, who presided; Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University; Charles S. Fairchild, who was Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland, and Mayor Mitchell. United States Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, Joseph H. Choate and many others of prominence were present.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Alarm over the fate of four American Consuls ordered from Germany to Turkey on the severance of relations and last reported held at Munich, Germany, has caused the State Department to inquire about them through the Spanish Ambassador. An inquiry was first sent about two weeks ago.

The Consuls were ordered transferred to Turkish ports to relieve others almost broken down by overwork. After some delay Germany declared that they were being held until the United States assured the uninterrupted voyage of former German Consul Mueller at Atlanta, Ga., from Havana, Cuba, to Ecuador.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26.—Alarm over the fate of four American Consuls ordered from Germany to Turkey on the severance of relations and last reported held at Munich, Germany, has caused the State Department to inquire about them through the Spanish Ambassador. An inquiry was first sent about two weeks ago.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26.—Private John Poor, Third Company, Coast Artillery Corps, stationed at Portland, Me., seems to be the first victim of the German war to fall on American soil. He defended a military reservation against armed intruders whose presence at large indicates tardiness in dealing with German agents in this country. The hint should be taken in every State. Germany will not content herself with making war upon the United States in the barred submarine zone alone. No taller feather could be put in the German cap than a successful act of destruction in America as an opening event of the war begun on the other side of the Atlantic.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Navy Department's orders for the guidance of the gunners who will protect American commerce from German submarines will not be published. These orders are based upon the fact that submarines will be treated as pirates and be given no opportunity to interfere with American commerce in the pursuit of its rights.

In an informal but forceful manner the State Department reiterated the fact that these orders will remain effective until the Imperial German government renounces the illegal proclamation of January 31, which stated that neutral shipping met in the bar-

NOTHING HEARD FROM MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING GIRL.

Nothing has been heard as to the whereabouts of Miss Grace Roberts, the eighteen-year-old girl, whose mysterious disappearance from Paris some days ago is being investigated by the police.

Miss Roberts had been employed at the Electric Dry Cleaning establishment in this city, for some time, making her home with her sister, Mrs. McHargue, on Fifteenth street. She had been very attentive to her duties, and had never missed a day from her work. She left the house one day last week, saying she would return shortly. Failing to return home that night her sister communicated with her father, Mr. W. H. Roberts, of Lilly, Laurel county, who came to Paris immediately and instituted a systematic search for the girl.

Every city in the State, and especially in this section, where it was thought she might have gone, was communicated with, and a description of the girl given to the police and other officials, but nothing has been seen or heard of her. A young Louisville woman, with whom she had been quite chummy was called up by phone, but she stated in reply that the girl had not been near her.

One rumor that gained persistent circulation with respect to the mysterious disappearance of the girl was that she had been induced to leave Paris by a traveling man, and that they had been seen together at Barberville several days ago. Upon investigation this proved untrue, and the disappearance remains still an unsolved mystery. A photograph of the Roberts girl, together with an accurate description, has been furnished the police and the correspondents of the daily papers from Paris, in hopes that its publication may help in restoring the girl to her home. Her mother, who is very ill at her home in Lilly, eagerly grasps every little hope that the girl may be found. Mr. Roberts stated that he could assign no reason whatever for her disappearance, as she seemed to be contented here, from all he could learn.

MR. W. O. HINTON WILL MAKE RACE FOR MAYOR

To Editor of THE BOURBON NEWS: The call which appeared recently in your columns asking me to make the race for the Democratic nomination for Mayor has been greatly appreciated by me, especially for its expression of confidence in my integrity and ability to fill the position.

The reasons set forth therein and the number of similar requests that have come to me personally from both former supporters and opponents have had my careful consideration and have persuaded me to accept the call, believing that my past close connection with the city's affairs in minor public offices, and the services thus rendered has entitled me to consideration for this more desirable position and has especially fitted me to render most efficient service and fill the office acceptably to the people.

There are no special hobbies or promises on which my claims shall be based.

If elected it shall be my most earnest endeavor at all times to secure for the city every advantage and improvement consistent with the safe and sound business principles that have always maintained the credit and good name of Paris and her reputation as the best city of her class in the State.

To this end every question shall be considered in the light of the most up-to-date information obtainable, the greatest good to the greatest number, and a fair and unbiased consideration of all interests concerned, and every duty shall be conscientiously discharged to the full extent of my ability.

Upon these grounds, and upon these only, my candidacy for the nomination as Mayor of Paris is submitted to the action of the Democratic primary, August 4, 1917, and the support of every Democrat is earnestly solicited.

No greater public honor is desired by me than to be counted worthy to fill the highest office in the city in which all my days have been spent.

Respectfully,

FRANKFORT, KY., March 26.—Geo. T. Smith, of Beattyville, major of the Third Battalion, has been appointed colonel of the Second Regiment, Kentucky National Guard, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Colonel Allen Gullion.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., March 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, in an address here, said he would have a division of American soldiers in the trenches of France within four or five months, if given permission by the government.

The statement was made just after the band had played "Dixie," and Colonel Roosevelt had remarked: "I would like to hear that tune against von Hindenburg's line in France."

Pro-German Influence At Work In Bourbon?

Has the German Spy System Been Inaugurated in This County?

Has the German spy system been at work in this county?

This is the question being agitated in North Middletown, this county, where recent developments have suggested the query. That an organized effort is being made by German sympathizers to stir up pro-German and anti-patriotic sentiment among the colored people of Bourbon county, especially in the North Middletown vicinity, has become firmly fixed in the minds of many citizens of that neighborhood, following a series of happenings that have taken place in that town during the past few days.

Several Sundays ago the pastor of a colored church in North Middletown, in a sermon advised the male members of his congregation that in case of war between the United States and Germany they should refuse to enlist. He stated that "this seems to be a white man's war, and we should let them do the fighting. They have 'jim-crowed' us and otherwise mistreated us, and now that they are in trouble they want us to fight for them." These utterances were condemned by the better class of colored citizens of North Middletown, but it seems to have had a bad effect on the other class of colored people who made up the preacher's congregation.

According to reliable reports a few days ago a white man arrived in North Middletown from Lexington in an automobile, and after dining with a number of colored people, made an incendiary speech, which, following that made by the colored preacher, again worked the colored people up to a high pitch of excitement. It was further said that this man had made an engagement to speak to the colored people of North Middletown and vicinity last Friday night, and that, after a consultation among the citizens of North Middletown, it had been agreed that he would be allowed to speak, and then placed under arrest. However, the news seemed to have been tipped off to him, and he failed to put in an appearance. The citizens of North Middletown, becoming uneasy over the developments, communicated with the Sheriff's office in Paris, and a close watch will be kept in the future to prevent a repetition of the events that have stirred the community.

To counteract the influence made by the speeches and the preacher's sermon an editorial from a recent issue of a Louisville paper, written by a cousin of the late Booker T. Washington, the prominent colored educator, in which he vouched for the loyalty of the colored citizens of the United States, has been extensively circulated in the North Middletown neighborhood, and was given much attention by the better class of colored citizens of that community.

If elected it shall be my most earnest endeavor at all times to secure for the city every advantage and improvement consistent with the safe and sound business principles that have always maintained the credit and good name of Paris and her reputation as the best city of her class in the State.

Upon these grounds, and upon these only, my candidacy for the nomination as Mayor of Paris is submitted to the action of the Democratic primary, August 4, 1917, and the support of every Democrat is earnestly solicited.

No greater public honor is desired by me than to be counted worthy to fill the highest office in the city in which all my days have been spent.

RED CROSS ORGANIZATION IS FORMED AT PARIS.

A well-attended meeting was held at the Bourbon County Y. M. C. A. building in this city, Friday, at which the preliminary organization of the Paris branch of the National Red Cross Society was effected.

Mrs. John F. Davis, chairman of the branch organization, presided at the meeting. She was assisted in the work by Paris women, and Mrs. Waller Hunt, Mrs. Samuel Marks and Mrs. Clarence Lebus, of Lexington, all of whom rendered valuable assistance in forming the organization. A large enrollment was secured, and much interest was manifested in the work. A class in first aid to the injured will be organized this week for study and work, to be under the instruction of Paris physicians.

AUTO TRUCKS COLLIDE.

That even two auto trucks cannot pass on a single track was given a practical demonstration last Thursday night on the Houston bridge, on the Lexington pike near Paris.

The two big machines, one a Fayette Home Telephone Co. truck en route to Lexington, and the other, a Walcutt Flour Co. truck, carrying twenty-five K. O. P.'s from Lexington to Cynthiana, met in a head-on collision at the bridge approach. Both were badly damaged, front axles and wheels being torn from each machine. Luckily no one was hurt, but a severe shaking up was given the Knights. The latter were taken to Cynthiana in machines summoned from Paris. The wrecked autos blocked traffic for some time. They were finally removed and sent to Lexington for repairs.

MR. W. O. HINTON ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR MAYOR

In this issue of THE NEWS appears the formal announcement of Mr. Wm. O. Hinton's candidacy for the office of Mayor of Paris.

Mr. Hinton, since the call made upon him some days ago through the columns of the local press, has been giving the subject of acceptance or rejection careful and mature consideration, and the announcement of his candidacy in this issue is the result of that deliberation.

To the people of Paris who have known him in both private and public life, the name of W. O. Hinton stands as a synonym for honesty and integrity, and for high ideals in business life and in public service. He has served the city as Councilman several times, and his services in that capacity, as well as Chairman of the Finance Committee, has been above the least suspicion of reproach. His dealings with the public as one of their representatives is an open book, every page of which stands out fair and clearly written in acts of public interest and interest to the public. He has always labored to maintain the honor of Paris and by his clear-sightedness has been of vast help in shaping and furthering the best material and financial interests of our citizens.

The best reference to Mr. Hinton's candidacy is his own card, in this issue, wherein he states clearly and unmistakably what he stands for—a better Paris, good government, special privileges or class legislation to none, and in which he promises (a promise that will be faithfully kept) to ever guard the best interests of the people of Paris. Paris would have in Mr. Hinton a capable and efficient executive. To this end he asks the support of the people of Paris.

A Move For Better Streets and School Improvement

A Joint Bond Issue Advocated At Mass Meeting Friday Night.

A joint bond issue to pave the streets of Paris with asphalt; make a splendid addition to the public addition to the public school building, and complete the city sewerage system, was endorsed at a mass meeting of the citizens of Paris, held at the court house Friday night.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Catesby Spears, president of the Paris Commercial Club. Short talks were made by Prof. Leon K. Frankel, of the University of Kentucky, who spoke on the proposed addition to schools; Geo. B. Carey, of the Carey Reed Company of Lexington, who discussed the asphalt paving question; Councilman Wm. O. Hinton, who spoke on all three matters included in the proposed bond issue; Mrs. Fannie Belle Sutherland, Drs. J. T. Vansant, and Chas. G. Daugherty, Mr. A. B. Hancock and Mr. Jas. McClure, on the extension of the sewer system as a sanitary measure.

Resolutions were offered by Attorney John J. Williams, urging the City Council to take up the matter of the bond issue at its next meeting. The amount to be raised in the bond issue was not named in the resolutions which are printed in full below.

The plan suggested was for a sufficient bond issue to be levied to pave the streets in the principal business and residence sections with asphalt. The suggested additions to the Public School building will be eight rooms, almost doubling the present capacity of the school and making it complete in equipment. The sewerage system has been partially built, but does not completely cover the city drainage.

The three measures are considered by the citizens of Paris to be the biggest steps toward progress that the city has taken in the past ten years. With their fulfillment the beauty, sanitation and educational facilities of the city are expected to surpass those in any city of the same municipal class in the State.

The resolutions in full follow:

PARIS, KY., MARCH 23, 1917.
I. BE IT RESOLVED: That it is the sense of the citizens of Paris, Kentucky, in mass convention assembled, that the following streets in the City of Paris should be paved:

2d. Main Street from Tenth Street south to city limits.

3rd. The entire length of Pleasant Street.

4th. Eighth Street from High Street to Walker Avenue.

5th. Seventh Street from High to Houston Avenue.

6th. All cross streets running between Pleasant and High Streets up to and including Twelfth Street; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That it is our desire to co-operate with the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council of the City of Paris in an effort to pave all said streets, either with brick, sheet asphalt or bituminous cement, according to plans and specifications to be adopted by the Mayor and Board of Council of the City of Paris.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That it is the sense of this meeting and the desire of the citizens of Paris in mass convention assembled, that the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council take such steps and pass such ordinances as are necessary to provide for the paving of all of said streets, and to that end we ask that the City of Paris pay one-third of the cost of the paving of all the above named streets (with the exception of High Street and the portion of South Main Street over which the Kentucky Traction & Terminal Company's track extends, and also Fourteenth Street from High to Main), together with the total cost of all intersections, and that the abutting property owners on either side of all said streets, each be required to pay one-third of the cost of said improvements, and that in addition thereto, the said abutting property owners by ordinance be required to pay for their respective curbs and gutters where, in the opinion of a competent engineer, gutters and curbs are necessary.

And Whereas, We are informed that the Kentucky Traction & Terminal Company, under the law, will be required to pay the cost of paving some eight or nine feet of the streets over which its tracks extend, to-wit: High Street, Fourteenth Street between High and Main, and South Main Street from Fourteenth to the city limits, we (Continued on Page 2)

Legal Ethics.

The annual meeting of the American Bar Association always draws together some very thoughtful men. Their discussions are well worth careful reading. Among the addresses delivered to the recent meeting of this society at Salt Lake City, was one by Prof. Felix Frankfurter, of the Harvard Law School.

This speaker told the assembled lawyers that "a body of law adapted to a sparsely settled agricultural community, has suddenly been confronted with the task of adjusting itself to a vast democracy with 30,000,000 wage earners and increasing pressure of conflicting interests." No wonder justice often miscarries.

The attempt to cope with the infinite complications of modern business has made law a labyrinth. There are endless opportunities for technicalities and evasions. A recent magazine article states that many corporation attorneys make it a practice to trap judges into making errors, which afterward can be used for the purpose of securing new trials.

The making of statutes and precedents to adapt law to modern business needs will be the work of many years. In many respects the existing standard of legal ethics seems to the layman to be wrong.

maxim that an attorney is justified in using all legal means to secure the release of a client whom he knows or believes to be guilty, is one of many principles that seems to the layman to be wrong.

maxim that an attorney is justified in using all legal means to secure the release of a client whom he knows or believes to be guilty, is one of many principles that seems to the layman to conceal a vital sophistry.

There are many puzzling questions that need redefinition. For instance it may be clear that a man owes a perfectly just debt. Yet if the debt has passed beyond the statute of limitations, the lawyers would probably fight the case, and do their best to save the client from payment of the debt. It may be legally right, but if the defendant escapes payment of a just debt, has not a moral wrong been committed? There are thousands of cases where it seems to the layman, as it did to the speaker who addressed the Bar Association, that law needs adjustment to the conditions of modern life.

Some people say lawyers as a class are dishonest. Yet for every tricky lawyer there is a rascally client. Lawyers see so much of the crookedness of life that it is a constant temptation to fight fire with fire.

Children's Gardens.

The child garden movement that has been started in so many places was for a time something of a joke. The children may have planted the vegetables and flowers. But the parents bought the fertilizer, had the ground spaded up, and were apt to do most of the weeding. Afterward they were supposed to pay the youngsters for the vegetables thus produced.

Long lists of prizes awarded to children for garden work are now appearing in many of the newspapers.

One such list now at hand names one child of four as receiving a prize for several varieties of flowers.

An agricultural college expert a few days ago went through the children's gardens in a town of some 7,000 people. He gave a hasty glance to perhaps half the plots, and remarked that those he had seen contained products worth at least $1,000. Evidently when the fall harvest is completed, these youngsters had added several thousand dollars to the wealth of that town. It was done out of time previously spent at aimless play. It is a joke no longer.

The American boy is not trained to work. He resents regular tasks. If compelled to hoe up weeds while hearing the yells of the neighboring boys over in the back lot, his soul revolts at the gross injustice of the world, and the heartless cruelty of parents.

But the modern American child is a pretty mature little creature. He is perfectly capable of raising a profitable garden if he wants to. There are good many boys to-day taking cattle shows and county fair and school prizes for amounts of vegetables raised the past summer running up into the hundreds of dollars.

The garden movement has made much better progress since the government and State experts conceived the idea of organizing the youngsters into clubs. A boy does what his gang does. If his mates decide that raising the biggest pumpkin is just as good fun as knocking the longest three-legged, he wants to take a hand in the game.

Spanish War Lesson.

"What is the grave danger that has forced us to adopt the espionage measure?" asks The New Republic and continues: "Let us recall a bit of our Spanish War history. Without assured command of the sea, we made our plans to throw an army of some 16,000 men into Cuba, defended by 195,000 Spanish soldiers, most of whom were regulars, seasoned and acclimated. From a conventional military point of view, the enterprise was a bold gamble, that could be expected to succeed only if executed as a surprise attack. But no sooner had we decided upon the Cuban campaign than our press began to publish in detail the facts pertaining to the number of our troops, their equipment, their movement to the point of embarkation, and even the probable points of attack. All this information was promptly cabled to Spain and thence to Cuba. We went lion-hunting with bows and arrows and a brass band. By our luck, not our merit, the lion proved to be on his last legs, stricken by maladies we knew nothing of. Our next enemy is likely to be more robust and more able to avail himself of information freely offered by a press preferring circulation to the success of the nation's undertakings."

PEPPER AND SALT

HIGH COST NEXT.

Diners at New York hotels may soon have to pay for the sauces and condiments as well as for their butter and bread. The heads of twenty of New York's up-town hotels are considering putting a charge on these hitherto free accessories to the meal. Some of the hotel owners said they must put a charge on the use of pepper and salt, saying their expenses were increasing so fast that such a move was necessary. The hotels have been charging for bread and butter for several months.

Action on the latest increase in the price of meals was deferred a week, but the hotel men predict the additional charges will be levied.

RANK FOOLISHNESS.

You occasionally see it stated that colds do not result from cold weather. This is rank foolishness. Were it true colds would be as prevalent in midsummer as in midwinter. The microbe that causes colds flourishes in damp, cold weather. To get rid of a cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effectual and is highly recommended by people who have used it for many years as occasion required, and know its real value. Obtainable everywhere.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That inasmuch as the City's portion of the cost of constructing these streets will amount to more than it can lawfully undertake to pay without the consent of the voters of the City of Paris, it is the sense of this Convention, and we request the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council to take such steps and pass such resolutions as will be necessary to call an election to allow the voters of the City of Paris to vote upon the proposition of whether or not they are in favor of voting a bond issue for the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of paying the City's portion of the cost of making said improvements.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That it is the sense of this convention that such additions to our school buildings as are necessary to accommodate the school children of the City of Paris should be built, and that all of the buildings should be put in a proper and modern sanitary condition; and to that end we ask that the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council of the City of Paris pass such resolutions as are necessary to call an election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the City of Paris the proposition of whether or not the City should issue bonds in the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of making said improvements.

III. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That inasmuch as a large portion of the City of Paris has never been sewered and the Eastern portion of said City is drained by a branch which empties into Stoner Creek a short distance below the point where the water supply of the City is pumped, thereby endangering the health of all the citizens of Paris, it is the sense of this Convention that the sewerage system of the City of Paris should be completed, and especially in the Eastern section of the City, and to that end we ask the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council to take action to complete the sewerage on the Eastern side of the City of Paris so as to connect with the sewer on Stoner Avenue; and for the purpose of meeting the expense of building this additional sewer, we respectfully ask the Council to take such steps and pass such resolutions as are necessary to enable them to build such sewer; and for the purpose of completing this sewer we request the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council to call an election to take the sense of the voters of the City of Paris upon the question of whether or not the City should issue bonds for the sum of $10,000 for the purpose of defraying the expense of building said sewer.

IV. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, by this Convention that the Chairman of this Convention give to the Honorable Mayor and Board of Council a copy of these resolutions, attested by the Chairman of this Convention.

SPRING SHOOTING PROHIBITED

The United States Department of Agriculture has received inquiries from many sportsmen in the Middle West in regard to spring shooting of waterfowl. In response the department has made the following public announcement:

Under the Federal regulations there is a closed season from February 1 to September 6, inclusive, each year throughout the United States on waterfowl and other migratory game birds. The season for hunting is further restricted in various parts of the country to periods not exceeding three and one-half months. The open season on waterfowl in the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, and Missouri is from September 16 to December 31, inclusive, and it is unlawful to hunt or kill waterfowl in those States at any other time. Persons committing violations of the regulations may be prosecuted at any time within three years after an offense is committed.

FRENCH BUILD THE GREATEST TUNNEL.

With the greatest war in history on their hands, the French have found time and resource to continue their work on the great commercial canal which will connect the port of Mar seilles with the Rhone River. In the course of this construction they have found it necessary to complete the greatest tunnel ever driven for the passage of the canal at one point. The tunnel is four and a half miles long, and the material removed was much greater in quantity than would be the case with a similar railroad tunnel. More rock was removed than from any two of the tunnels which pierce the Alps. The canal will not be completed for some time, but the tunnel has been successfully finished.

RUSSIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AT LEXINGTON.

The Russian Symphony Orchestra, Modest Altschuler, conductor; Bernard Altschuler, cello soloist, and Michel Gusikoff, violinist, will be heard in a great festival of music at the Lexington Opera House in two performances, afternoon and evening of March 29. This great body of musicians and their wonderful conductor have been having the most phenomenal success on their present spring tour, and the review from the Dayton Journal, after their performance in that city, says:

"There was no neutrality, armed or otherwise, on the stage at the Victoria Theater last night when Modest Altschuler and the Russian Symphony Orchestra gave an all-Russian program. It was all-Russian up to the last two minutes of the concert—bleeding sorrow-riden Russia, sorrowing and lamenting. Then came two minutes which the audience will never forget—two minutes in which Zangwill's 'Melting Pot' was depicted by throbbing strings, crashing brasses and vibrant reeds. In a word, Altschuler gave his men a signal and they turned from the fiercely wild 'Marche Slave' to the soul stirring strains of 'The Star Spangled Banner.' As one man, the orchestra and audience arose. A gesture from Altschuler signaled his hearers, 'We Are All Americans Now,' and the audience broke forth into the nation's anthem. To the ever-lasting credit of Dayton, let it be recorded that the big chorus not only knew the words, but sang them with a fervor that reverberated in thrilling rivalry with the rolling kettle drums and the monster tuba. Only a few moments before the concert began, the orchestra had been apprised that the Czar had abdicated. The news fairly electrified the players and it is doubtful whether those present at last night's concert will again in years hear the music played with the zest and fervor which characterized the program. Tchaikowski's great Pathetic Symphony was the chief piece of the evening. Needless to say its production was a marvel of tone color. It surely was played 'con amore'—of its Slavic equivalent Rachmaninoff and Rimsky-Korsakoff were also presented."

The program for the evening performance in Lexington contains this great symphony, played as only the Russian Orchestra can play it.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry Up a Corn or Callous So It Lifts Off With Fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of Freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callous, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callous loosens so it can be lifted off, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of Freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any Freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

MOTHERS! GIVE CHILD
"SYRUP OF FIGS" IF
TONGUE IS COATED.

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean
Little Liver and Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste. Liver gets sluggish, stomach soars, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other with contempt.

DO YOU HAVE DIZZY SPELLS?

It's Important to Learn the Cause, As Many Paris People Have.

Dizziness is never a disease of itself—it's only a symptom of some deeper-seated trouble. Much dizziness is caused by disordered kidneys failing to filter all the poisons from the blood. These poisons attack the nerves and dizziness results. If you are subject to dizziness, there is good reason to suspect your kidneys, and if you suffer backache, headache, and irregular kidney action, you have further proof. Many Paris people have learned the value of Doan's Kidney Pills in just such cases. Read this Paris resident's statement:

Mrs. J. W. Markland, 326 Eighth St., Paris, says: "Some few years ago I suffered severely with kidney complaint and sometimes was in a serious condition. I have had a constant, dull ache across the small of my back and I have had terrible dizzy spells at times. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for this trouble and they have helped me more than anything else, always relieving me of the complaint."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Markland had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

BLASTING WITH LIME.

One of the greatest forces produced by chemical action is that which is generated by the swelling of quick lime, or unslacked lime, when it is brought into contact with water. The lime when wet swells with a force that is well-nigh irresistible. Many engineers have worked on methods to make use of the force, but it has never been practically applied until recently.

Not long ago it was necessary to tear down a number of stone pillars twenty feet high and twelve feet square, in a factory. Dynamite was impracticable because of nearby machinery. So holes were drilled in the pillars and filled with quicklime upon which water was poured. The mouths of the holes were closed by tamping. In ten minutes as the lime swelled the great pillars split and broke in all directions.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS PROBABLE IN RUSSIA.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Russia will in all probability be the first world power to provide for women suffrage," said J. G. Ohsol, former member of the Russian duma.

"If a constitutional convention is elected by universal suffrage, as provided in the provisional government's manifesto, there will be a dozen women among the delegates, and the convention will grant votes to women."

"It will probably surprise Americans to be told that in Russia there is no such sex prejudice as exists in England, France, Germany and the United States."

SHORTHORN BREEDERS
FORM ASSOCIATION.

The weather forecast for the week beginning Sunday, March 24, is as follows:

For Ohio Valley and Tennessee Fair and moderate until Wednesday or Thursday, when weather will be somewhat unsettled, with probably rain, followed by considerably colder.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday were really bright days, full of promise of good things to come before Easter. The sun shone bright and clear and the air was refreshing and invigorating, bringing out the voluntary and involuntary "shut-ins."

The streets were alive with pedestrians Sunday, while countless automobiles sped up and down the streets, filled with pleasure-seekers. The bright weather caused an increased attendance at the churches and Sunday schools. Nature and nature-lovers alike rejoiced in the agreeable change in temperature.

TEACHERS' PAY DELAYED BY
TIE-UP IN FEDERAL COURT

V. O. Gilbert, Superintendent of Public Instruction, said Saturday that there would be some delay in sending out the March installment due the school teachers of the State. The delay is caused by the fact that the estimated revenue for the year on which the per capita is based included money derived from railroad franchises.

The assessment cases of the rail-road companies are tied up in federal court and no revenue has been derived from this source. The $500,000 due teachers cannot be paid until the revenue from this source is collected, or by using part of the school funds for next year.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT.

The trial of the cases of J. H. Stivers, et al., and T. J. Flora, et al., against the Paris Water Company occupied the entire time of the Court at Friday's session and continued through Saturday. The suits were brought for the recovery of damages aggregating more than $6,000. Both suits were tried before the same jury, and were the outgrowth of the big fire two years ago which destroyed the large warehouse of Mr. Stivers, and the office and store rooms of Mr. Flora, at Main and Fifteenth streets.

The plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys Oscar T. Hinton, Harmon Stitt and Denis Dundon, while E. M. Dickson and D. D. Cline looked after the interests of the Paris Water Company.

The cases went to the jury yesterday afternoon, after arguments by Hon. E. M. Dickson, Attorney Oscar T. Hinton and Judge Denis Dundon. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants in both cases.

PARIS HIGH SCHOOL MINSTREL.

On Friday evening, March 30, the people of Paris will be treated to one of the most unusual entertainments that has ever been staged in this city.

The participants will be composed entirely of High School boys, and the high class of entertainment that they have given us in athletics is sufficient that the show next Friday will be well worth seeing.

Everybody enjoys a good negro minstrel, and that is exactly what the boys of the High School are going to present. All the jokes are either new or remodeled to a sufficient extent to conceal their former identity. The music is first class and up-to-date. All the best people will be there; so fall in line and show the boys that you are for them all the time. The price has been placed within the reach of all; the place is the High School Auditorium, within easy walking distance from all parts of town. No excuse is left.

K. OF P'S ARRANGING FOR "A BIG NIGHT."

The Committee in charge of Ladies' Night at Rathbone Lodge, K. of P., reports great progress in the preparations and from all indications there will be a great and glorious time on the night of March 29.

A program is being arranged that is sure to please the taste of all present, while the arrangement of a special nature have been arranged so that all will have a part in the evening's celebration. If you have not engaged a lady for that occasion, take our advice and do so immediately, as there will be a scarcity of ladies in Paris for that night, as it will take a lady escort to gain admission to the Castle Hall.

The Committee has extended an invitation to the Matron Chief of the Pythian Sisters and it is thought that she will be present on the occasion in question. If she does attend, the ladies of Paris will have an opportunity of hearing the foremost speaker among the women in this State. So the members must keep it in mind that it is their privilege as well as their duty to see that all women friends of Rathbone Lodge No. 12 have an opportunity to be present. A correct program will be published before long, but, in the meantime, do not forget the time, the place or the girl.

REUBEN GOT EXCITED
OVER THE "CHICKENS."

In the Saturday Courier-Journal appeared highly humorous skit, signed "Irish," being a letter to his pal, "Red," in which he details the many funny things that happened in the Legislature at Frankfort one day last week, when the school girls from the Eastern Normal School at Richmond came down to see the legislators legislate. In the letter he makes the following shot at our own Representative Reuben Hutchcraft, of Paris;

"Mr. Rubie Hutchcraft, the representative from Bourbon county, got so excited when he saw the chickens upon the gallerie that he started to untie his hare and part his tie in the middle. Mr. Hutchcraft had a lot of mendments to bills on his desk, but he forgot all about 'em when them 'chickens' blew in the gallerie. It seems like he knew one of the gurls, and he run off upon the gallerie and got kidnapped. Well sir, Mr. Duffie, the Speaker, commenced ter holler fur the gentlemen from Bourbon county, which is what they calls Mr. Hutchcraft, and Mr. Bowman, which is the pleeceman of the House, had to go in the gallerie and resku Mr. Hutchcraft. When the gentleman from Bourbon cum back to his sete to make a speech about his mendments he commenced talkin about tangobel and intangobel properties, which showed he was all mixt up, and then he started to talkin about Hesperides and sirens and a lot of things I didn't know nuthin about."

TO PURCHASE FLAGS.

In order to secure flags for the school rooms, halls and auditorium of the Paris Public School, the proposition recently made by the Dixon Pen Company was accepted, and the pupils have been engaged in selling lead pencils. The Dixon Pencil Company offered as an inducement various sizes of American flags for the sale of certain quantity of lead pencils. The pupils were very successful, and the rooms will soon be adorned with "Old Glory."

TALES TOLD BY ANGLERS' WHO CAN FISH SOME.

Not all the good fish stories get into print, and some are not worth the time and trouble of reproducing them, but this one from a recent issue of the Petersburg, Florida, Times, bears the impress of the truth, as it concerns a well known Paris man, who has just returned from a stay in the "land of flowers and sunshine."

"The guests of the Pas-a-Grille Hotel have entered into a lively king-fishing contest. Every night wonderful stories are told in the lobby not only of the fish that got away, but the fish that were landed. Last Wednesday, Mr. Jos. W. Davis, of Paris, Ky., with Mr. Craig C. Miller, of Marshall, Mich., and Dr. Hermace, of Philadelphia, spent half a day on the gulf and returned with a wonderful catch. Fifty-six of their kingfish specimens were brought to the hotel as evidence of having enjoyed a good day's sport. All of the men bore a healthy coat of tan, and were loud in their praises of the fishing in the Gulf of Mexico. They were fortunate in securing fish of unusually large size. Mr. Hamilton, of Cynthiana, Ky., also had some fine sport with the finny tribe near the Mullet Key light."

Easter Sunday falls this year on April 8, being neither late nor early. Last year it came on April 23, and next year it will fall on March 31. Last year's Easter Sunday, on April 23, was as late as it will be before the year 2,000, when it again will fall on that date.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

That it pays to advertise was again demonstrated when a one-inch ad inserted in Friday's NEWS by Mr. Richard Sales, enabled him to find a customer in short order. Mr. Sales advertised a Humptie truck for sale and by nine o'clock Friday morning it had changed ownership, the purchaser saying he saw the ad in THE NEWS.

It pays to advertise, and it pays to get quick results by advertising in THE NEWS.

FORGER ARRESTED.

A man giving the name of R. G. Reynolds, was arrested by Chief of Police Fred Link and Patrolman George Judy last night in Posner Bros. shoe store, a few moments after he had bought a pair of shoes and had cashed a forged check for $30.

The check was written on a First National Bank blank, made payable to R. G. Reynolds and signed R. P. Collins, for American Telegraph and Telephone Co. After being taken to jail the prisoner acknowledged forging the check and said his right name was Robert Conley, from Brooklyn, N. Y. There is tattooed on the outer side of his right arm a scroll with the word "Alice." On the inside of the arm is the word, "Jack," under two shields and an American Flag. On the left arm is a small blue cross.

It is thought by the police that he is wanted on a more serious charge elsewhere.

JEWS REJOICE OVER REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA

The Jewish race everywhere is moved, thrilled, overjoyed by the Russian revolution, and well it may be, in the land which has the greatest mass of the Jewish population of the earth, all legal and even social distinctions are to be removed at once. Of the 13,000,000 Jews all over the world, of the 10,000,000 in Europe, 6,000,000 are in Russia. The new government of Russia enfranchises these all at once, and removes every restriction hereto put upon them.

Whatever Jews have in America they are now, it seems, to have in Russia. The fitters are at once struck from the hands of the greatest body of Jews in the world. One effect of this great change, if it is maintained in the future, will be to diminish the number of Jews who will come to this country; for the breaking down of this pale, the removal of discriminations, the opening of all business and professions, would give the Jews an opportunity in Russia which certainly would not be surpassed in this country, for the extent of Russia exceeds our own, and in some directions its resources also exceed, or at last equal ours. There may even be a return flow of Jews from America to Russia when peace comes.

It may also be noted that the relaxation of the illiteracy clause in the new immigration bill, for the benefit of those who are refugees from religious and political persecution, which was introduced for the benefit of the Russian Jews, would cease to be operative after the removal of such persecution through the present change in Russia.

RAILROAD RIGHT-OF-WAY TO BE USED FOR GARDENS

The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, in an effort to reduce the high cost of living to its maintenance of way employees, has tendered them the use of its right-of-way for cultivation. It is believed that this action on the part of the road will enable hundreds of its employees to raise a garden this year who might otherwise be prevented.

The fact that in many places the right-of-way was susceptible of cultivation, and that many of the section forces would be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity, was brought to the attention of the management recently, and orders were at once issued that the men should be accorded the privilege of the use of such lands.

There are 150 sections on the system, and during the spring and summer seasons each section is looked after by a force of from ten to twelve men. The use of the right-of-way for gardens would enable several hundred families to have vegetables during the summer and, in many instances, the gardens along the right-of-way will be the only reliance these forces will have for garden truck. The land has never been in cultivation, and along some stretches of the road should bring splendid results.

The orders are to the effect that section men and other maintenance of way employees may cultivate the land wherever such cultivation does not interfere with the operations of the living to several hundred families is apparent.

LARGE BRIDGES ARE SHIFTED QUICKLY.

There is something more than passing interest to be gleaned from an engineering feat that has been executed at Omaha. A few weeks ago an old four-span, 1,000-foot, 2,750-ton railway bridge extending over the Missouri River and connecting the Nebraska and Iowa shores was replaced with a new one weighing 5,500 tons. The time actually spent in moving the original structure out of the way and slipping the other one onto the piers amounted to fifteen minutes, while traffic was actually suspended for less than an hour. The operation is noteworthy because of the size and weight of each of the bridges involved and the fact that they were handled intact instead of in sections. On the upstream and downstream sides of the piers, falsework was erected, in one case to receive the old bridge when it was lifted from its supports, and in the other to carry the new structure during the course of its erection. Five stationary engines and 200 men accomplished the work. Illustrations in the Popular Mechanics Magazine show the two bridges resting on the falsework, the old one having been moved to the left; and also the new bridge in place on the piers.

HATS SEEN ON

Straw Hats and Smart Gowns

Meet the Eye at Every Turn

GRAY A LEADING COLOR

NEW YORK, March 26, 1917.

The glamor of Fifth Avenue acts like magic always, even on the grayest and dreariest days that March brings with it. All outward gloom is quickly dispelled by the glitter of the shop windows. Shoppers on their way from one store to another pause continually to gaze and enjoy the wonderful displays. On the great thoroughfare itself, a never-ending procession of limousines, taxis and omnibuses roll by with interesting occupants.

Here the very latest whims of fashion appear, the very best dressed women are seen; in short, all that sums up the last word in fashion is at one's command!

A Smart One-Piece Frock—Developed in Two Materials

What are the smart women wearing? And what are the tempting bits of finery exhibited in these glittering windows that cast such a spell about them?

Straw hats are quite the accepted thing now. One can count the hats that are not springlike, so few and far between are they. The number of people who still cling to the idea that a straw hat is out of place before Easter, grows less and less daily. In fact, the tables are entirely turned, and it is hard to believe that the out-of-place hats are those bright, springlike creations all a-bloom with flowers, and not those of darker and heavier materials.

Even as early as this, hats of satin or satin and straw are giving place to those of all-straw. Crepe and straw combinations are very good style. Sometimes the crepe is used for the crowns of the small high-crowned turbans with a little straw around the narrow brims, or else it is used for the brims of the wide sailors which have crowns of straw.

Very high crowned and almost brimless are some of the most popular shapes, but the picturesque, wide-brimmed styles and fancy shapes are also being worn.

Hats are not heavily trimmed this season. A beaded ornament, or flowers worked in worsted or chenille, and placed in front, often take all the responsibility of trimming. Feather fans and narrow velvet or picot-edged ribbon arranged around the crown with studied carelessness are other simple forms of trimming. Very frequently one sees the Chinese hats, round in shape and sloping down gradually from a point at the top.

Gray a Leading Color.

Evidently, gray is one of the smartest of the light colors this season. Sand, beige and putty are others which have already been successfully launched. The popular gray is a soft tone, most attractive in dresses of chiffon and crepe beaded or braided elaborate in a deeper tone of gray. For the most part, all-gray is generally favored, but a touch of light blue or coral pink appears here and there.

Even in shoes, gray is a color considerably used. Gray suede and kid pumps are exceptionally smart to go with afternoon dresses, and in shoes for street wear the gray suede uppers with gray kid or black patent-leather vamps are most desirable. Gray for gloves is also fashionable, especially to match the shoes or dress.

Another color we see more and more of is the dull old-gold. Suits, dresses, separate waists and skirts alike claim it as their own. Very popular, too, are the mustard and citron shades. When used in combination with any other color, navy blue or black is usually chosen to be the companion of gold. Both navy and black, but navy in particular, used with sand and beige make excellent combinations.

Just now the black satin skirt with a white chiffon blouse worn over it is considered very chic. The blouse may be trimmed with filet lace, embroidery or fine tucks. With white satin or silk jersey skirts these long slip-on blouses are also charming.

Still the Straight One-Piece Frock

The appearance of the barrel skirt has in no way diverted attention from the straight one-piece frock. It continues to hold its sway and still finds favor with the masses. And new variations of it appear perpetually.

Dresses of White and Gaily Figured Voile

The first sketch shows one of the latest forms of the straight frock. It has three large tucks over the shoulders, stitched to yoke depth and continued in soft pleats below the waist. The lower part of the dress, the collar and cuffs are of figured material. A belt extending around the sides and back, with two narrow straps filling the gap across the front, marks the normal waistline.

The other sketch shows a design also suitable for two fabrics. The waist and kimono sleeves are of plain white voile, the yoke, cuffs and skirt of figured voile. In many of the frocks developed in two materials in this way, motifs from the figured material are cut out and applied to collar and cuffs to make the trimming.

MINES AT VERDUN.

An expert with a taste for statistics has recently calculated that it will be profitable to conduct iron-mining operations on the great European battlefields after the war. He estimates that sixty million shells have been fired in the long struggle for Verdun. These shells, he says, represent three million tons of steel. Add to this the barbed wire defenses, dismantled guns and other wreckage of war, and he believes that enough iron and steel have been scattered on the hundred square miles of the field to make mining a paying proposition when peace comes.

"There's a Reason"

HASN'T FELT SO GOOD IN 5 YEARS

Strength Starts to Return as Soon as Tanlac Comes.

NOW HE "JUST FEELS FINE"

"After five years of weakness and poor health I have at last got my strength back with the help of Tanlac," said A. D. Cline, a Pikeville, Ky., machinist. "I have gained nine pounds already and I have been taking Tanlac only a few weeks."

Mr. Cline believes in the old saying: "Every person who can lighten the burdens of another is useful to the world." That's why he gives this statement.

Continuing, he said: "I suffered with a bad stomach which finally ran into bowel complaints. This made me very nervous and I felt myself growing weaker every day. I didn't have any ambition. I dragged through the day with a tired, worn out feeling."

"I couldn't sleep soundly—got up in the mornings feeling tired, had headaches, my eyes burned and I couldn't eat a mouthful of breakfast. I took the strongest headache powders I could get, but all they did was depress me. My nerves were simply ruined and my stomach got so the lightest diet hurt me."

Tanlac was so highly recommended that I decided to try it. In a few days my appetite came back. I found I could eat without feeling bad afterwards. In a few weeks I felt like a different man. After eight weeks I have gained nine pounds and never felt better in my life."

"I think Tanlac is a great medicine. I hope any person who is troubled as I was will give it a trial."

If you don't feel right get Tanlac today. Delay in health matters is dangerous.

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively in PARIS by Varden & Son. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows:

HUTCHISON, Snell & Wood; MILLERSBURG, W. G. Wadell; ELIZA BETH, Oscar Smith; CARLISLE Freeman & Son; GEORGETON... C. H. Arnold; WINCHESTER, Duty Drug Company; AUSTERLITZ, B. S. Parish. (adv.)

TWO MORE AMERICAN SHIPS SUBMARINED.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—News from London, England, shows that two more American steamers have become victims of the Kaiser's "ruthless" U-boat warfare.

The American steamer Maryland, of Milwaukee, has been posted by Lloyd's in London as missing, according to a Consular dispatch to the State Department.

The Maryland sailed from Philadelphia to London on December 23.

The American steamer Headton has been torpedoed, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News Agency.

A boat containing seven of the Headton's crew has reached Jerselund (North Sea), the dispatch adds.

The sinking of the Headton is confirmed by a Reuter dispatch from The Hague.

The Headton sailed from Chester, Pa., on January 26, for Rotterdam, with 2,137,711 gallons of refined petroleum, valued at $106,886. She was last reported three days later, 720 miles east of Delaware Breakwater.

The vessel was commanded by Captain Christopher and carried a crew of thirty-eight men. She was built at Greenock, Scotland, in 1908. Her home port was New York.

The Headton was a tanker of 4,480 tons gross and was owned by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

CINCINNATI SPEEDWAY.

President Harry S. Leyman, of the Cincinnati Speedway, has received the welcome information that three of the best known race drivers of the world who are serving in the armies of Europe, have secured furloughs from their respective commands for the coming summer, and will be seen in the various prize events in this country, including the two Cincinnati races on Saturday, June 23, and Labor Day, respectively.

The trio of stars added to the list of starters are Christiansen, who made such a sensational showing in the Labor Day race last year, and who is at present attached to the Belgian aviation corps, and Jack Scales and Enrico Cagno, both of whom are serving in the Italian army. Christiansen will drive one of the two English Sunbeam cars which will be part of the equipment of the recently organized American Speedways Racing Team, while the other Sunbeam will have Eddie Rickenbacker at the wheel. Scales and Cagno will drive Fiat cars, and even now are at work on details for their racing machines which promises to make them more formidable contenders than ever in the big events.

It is expected that quite a number of speed kings will use the local tracks for their preliminary work, after the close of winter. General Manager Harry Shockley and Superintendent E. L. Shea are giving much attention to putting the track in proper shape for racing, and promise to have everything in perfect order as soon as the weather sets in.

THE MIGRATION OF SOUTHERN NEGROES

Reports indicate that up to the first of last year, more than a quarter of a million Southern negroes had moved into Northern States. Never in the history of the country has the migration been so heavy. The influx of these Southern negroes has already brought serious problems to Northern cities, including Cincinnati.

Reports show that recent arrivals number not less than 500 families, most of them practically destitute. These families number from three to fifteen members each. A fair total of individuals, including children, would be from 3,000 to 3,500, perhaps more. Most of these are abjectly poor and without education. Their knowledge of hygiene and sanitation is dangerously limited.

Investigators report that three reasons impel Southern negroes to come North—the higher wages here, better facilities for education, and an assurance of greater protection and personal liberty. These are reasons which will appeal to the Northern mind. But the sentiment will not compensate for or solve the serious problems which these wholesale migrations thrust upon us. The matter of public health, which can be met only through proper housing, feeding and employment, is vital. A citizens' committee, representing several energetic social service organizations, has already been organized to examine the situation. The matter of housing these newcomers is now being discussed. Reports read at a meeting recently showed that in numerous cases from ten to fifteen newcomers are sleeping in two basement rooms without sufficient clothing, furniture or food. Such conditions, it should be apparent to all, can not be allowed to continue for long if the health of the community is to be preserved.

GERMANY TRIES TO PLAY A SMOOTH GAME.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Word that a European neutral might offer mediation to prevent open war between the United States and Germany has come to the Administration without causing surprise or in any way affecting the Government's plans for meeting the situation forced by submarine ruthlessness.

Such a proposal is regarded here as nothing more than another scheme fostered by Germany with the hope of confusing the issue and possibly dividing sentiment in this country while the destruction of American lives and ships on the high seas continues.

At the State Department the officials would neither deny nor confirms that the Government already had been approached on this subject, although it was admitted informally that such a move was not unexpected.

It was very emphatically stated that no suggestion of mediation or discussion would be considered unless it was accompanied by abandonment of illegal assaults upon American shipping, a course to which there is no reason for yet believing the Imperial Government is giving a thought.

DRIED CODFISH

SINK A SCHOONER.

"Codfish Sank Big Schooner" was the title of a news item of recent date, which, besides being most unusual, seems to open up a new method of sinking wooden ships of the nations at war at a trifling cost compared with the present $5,000 to $10,- 000 torpedoes used by submarines and destroyers.

The schooner Ponhook, under a captain and crew of seven men, left St.

John, N. B., for the Azores with a carload of dried codfish, explains the Popular Science Monthly. Soon afterward she ran into a heavy sea and shipped considerable water. The dry codfish absorbed this like a sponge, and it was but a couple of days before the expansive pressure of the swelled codfish had forced open the seams of the vessel's planking so that the water began to seep in, little by little, until the ship was beyond saving and had to be abandoned.

Mesdames F. E. Peterson and R. Bonar were in Cincinnati, Monday.

The Circle of the Christian church met Saturday afternoon with Mrs. A. Miller.

Master Billie Butler entertained quite a number of his little friends Saturday afternoon with a little party.

Mrs. Richard Butler and little son, Richard, Jr., have returned to their home at Paris, after a short visit to Mr. Andrew Butler and family.

The protracted meeting which has been in progress at the Presbyterian church for the past week continues to grow in interest and large audiences are hearing Rev. Wilson each service. The meeting will continue through the week. Services every afternoon and evening at 2:30 and 7 o'clock.

The last number of the Lyceum course given under the auspices of the W. C. A. of the M. C. was held Friday night at the M. C. auditorium. Notwithstanding the inclement weather a very good audience was in attendance and a delightful program was rendered by the Chapel Concerto. The violinist was especially good, as was also the pianist. Every number was good, and they were very liberal with their encores. We hope the W. C. A. has made some money this year with the course, as this is a worthy cause.

The stock barn, together with six head of horses and mules of Lewis Ramsey, residing six miles from Lexington on the Frankfort pike, were destroyed by fire shortly after midnight Saturday.

The fire was discovered by neighbors passing along the road. They aroused Mr. Ramsey and aided in efforts to rescue the stock from the burning building. The origin of the fire is unknown, as the flames covered the entire building when first seen and their origin could not be determined.

Farm implements and a quantity of grain and feed stuff were also burned with the stock.

DEATHS.

BROUGHTON.

Edward Emmett Broughton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Broughton, was buried in the Paris Cemetery Saturday afternoon.

HARRIS.

In the casket borne by the loving hands of sorrowing school mates the body of Miss Dorothy Harris, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Harris, of this city who died at the Massie Memorial Hospital, Monday after an operation for appendicitis, was consigned to its last resting place in the North Middletown Cemetery, Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

The services were conducted at the grave by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian Church. The pall-bearers were Russell Frank, Omar Denton, Albert Stewart, Alex T. Rice, Jr., Raymond Connell and Robert Lavin.

GIOVANNOLI.

The sympathy of the members of the press go out to Mr. Harry Giovannoli, managing editor of the Lexington Leader, in the loss of his eight-year-old daughter, Katherine Harris Giovannoli, who died in Danville, Friday morning.

The little girl was taken ill some weeks ago with scarlet fever, but had recovered, it was thought. She was at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Letcher, in Danville, when she was taken ill with an attack of laryngitis, and the ensuing complications resulted in her death. Her mother died about three years ago.

Mr. Giovannoli was summoned at once from his home at Lexington, as were the little girl's two brothers, who were attending the M. M. I. at Millersburg.

The funeral was held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Letcher, in Danville, with services conducted by Rev. Dr. E. M. Green, of the First Presbyterian church of Danville. The burial followed in the Danville Cemetery.

KELLEY.

The funeral of Miss Ellen Frances Kelley, aged twenty-eight, who died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Maggie Kelley, on North High street, at six o'clock Saturday evening, was held at the Catholic church yesterday morning at nine o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. The burial followed in the Paris Catholic Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were John Glenn, James Higgins, George Doyle, Jas. W. McCarthy, D. J. Mahoney, Jr., and Jno. McGinley.

Miss Kelley had for ten years been the efficient bookkeeper and cashier in the office of the Bourbon Steam Laundry on Fifth street. In this capacity she was faithful and competent, her employees speaking in the highest terms of her fidelity to duty and uniform courtesy and attention to customers. Miss Kelley had been in declining health for nearly a year, but had been confined to her home a comparatively short time. Besides her mother, she is survived by one sister, Miss Mary T. Kelley, and an uncle, Mr. Edward Kelley. Her father, Mr. James Kelley, preceded her to the grave many years ago.

Miss Kelley was a young woman of many accomplishments, quiet and studious, and one who numbered her friends by the score. She was devoted to her home, her kindred and her friends, by whom her demise is sincerely mourned.

HOWE.—The funeral of Mrs. Elvira Thurston Howe, aged eighty-five, a former resident of Paris, who died Wednesday in Danville, took place Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. J. Hal Woodford, on Winchester street, at two o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. George H. Harris, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, in this city. The burial followed on the Thurston lot in the Paris Cemetery.

Fifty years ago Mrs. Howe, then Mrs. Thurston, resided in Paris in the old Thurston House, the site of which is now occupied by the Harry Simon Department Store. The Thurston House, in its day, was a famous stopping place for Southern people using the old National pike, of which the present Maysville & Lexington pike was a part. She was a first cousin of Mrs. Mary Halleck Woodford, who died at the home of her son, Mr. J. Hal Woodford, in this city, a few days ago, and also of the late Mrs. Rachel Haleck Ewalt. She was also a relative of Miss Puss Rogers and her sister, Mrs. Edna Rogers Bullock, who now resides in Columbus, Ohio.

For several years past Mrs. Howe has resided in London, England, with her two sons. She came back to America a few months ago, and while visiting at the home of Mrs. Hawkins, in Danville, was stricken with pneumonia, with a fatal result.

TO ADMINISTER ESTATE.

Mrs. Florence Beckett Jefferson has been appointed by the County Court as administrator of the estate of her father, Mr. Wm. Beckett, who died at his home on the Jacksonville pike, near Paris, some days ago. Mrs. Jefferson qualified in the sum of $8,000. with the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company as surety.

Mr. S. R. Burris was appointed by the Court as administrator of the estate of Mr. Lot Banta, who died at his home recently near Little Rock, this county. Mr. Burris qualified by furnishing bond in the sum of $5,000. with Mr. R. H. Burris as surety. Clifton Gillispie, I. T. Crouch and P. C. Ward were appointed as appraisers of the estate.

MATRIMONIAL.

Mr. E. S. Thomas, aged twenty-six, son of Mr. Leander Thomas, and Miss Ruby Brown, aged twenty, daughter of Mr. Wm. Brown, both of this county, were married in Cynthiana, by County Judge R. M. Collier, in the Harrison county court house, last week.

The sum of $2,000 was raised last week in the North Middletown vicinity by H. J. Derthick and D. C. McCullum, representing the "Men and Millions" movement of the Christian church.

The program committee of the City Union of Young Peoples' Societies will meet to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, to arrange for Sunrise services for Easter Sunday. All members of the committee are requested to be present.

The monthly business and social gathering of the Daughters of Wesley Bible Class will be held at the Methodist church, Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. S. T. Chipley will be the hostess for the afternoon. All the members of the class are invited to be present.

A very interesting program was rendered at the Epworth League meeting Sunday night, when the subject, "The Saloon, a Foe to Society," was presented, with Mr. H. A. Power as leader. Mr. Power, in the opening talk discussed the prohibition cause at length. Every number on the program was given by the men of the League, who were asked a question by the leader, the same being answered in a short talk. The following is a gist of the program:
